Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

The Sacramento Grand Jury has adjourned without indicting State Treasurer "Gus" Johnson. All the shady imputations, the publicly voiced innuendos of District Attorney Bobcock concerning Johnson's private banking accounts and his conduct of his office have come to naught. Babcock apparently has laid himself open for a first-class libel suit. If one were brought it would serve as a public warning to all prosecuting officers to make their investigations privately, and not clarion them in the nswapapers before they have brought the accused actually before the bar of justice.

Perhaps God is with the black Ethiopians. "Unseasonable rains" according to communications from the Italian front, are holding up the campaign for the subjection of these wild people of the African plateau. In three of four months the regular rainy season will set in and then Italian armies will be in a trap with their heavy war machinery and 500 miles from their base of supplies. It would look as if this war had come to stay awhile. In time the sympathy of the world, now with the Abyssinian tribesmen, may swing to the underfed and fever stricken Italian troops, sent to their doom in a hostile region of fierce men and beasts, in climate and altitude utterly alien to their pleasant and charming homeland, all for the glory of an egomaniac. At any rate we should distinguish between these dupes and the mad despot who leads them.

The Literary Digest, which by means of its national polling system, in 1932 predicted the easy victory of the Democrats, now reports that the tide is turned against the New Deal and that 53.28 per cent of the pepole have had enough of the Roosevelt policies and acts. The Democrats who hailed the first poll with jubilation are now pooh-poohing the present tally. It was ever thus.

The mystery pertaining to the baking soda deaths in San Francisco is still unsolved, with the fourth death recorded from its use. The last death is attributed to poisoned soda, but aparently its source is not the Rosenthal store, as was the soda that killed the first three. Mass murder conceived and planned by a maniac seems the only reasonable explanation of these deaths, particularly if more than one lot of soda proves to have been doped with arsenic.

Twenty men to go to work on the city park WPA projects were promised last Monday, and as many or more were promised to initiate the city's big street program. Herb Hallett in a moment of great generosity offered the Park board half of his street crew when no one turned up for the work at the park, then regretfully withdrew the offer, explaining that his crew consisted of one working man, one time keeper and one foreman. On the court house job five or six men are at work where ten or more have been promised. But last Wednesday two dozen husky men showed up at the city hall, to meet the SERA paymaster and receive their dole checks, which are handed out without any quid pro quo in the way of sweat of the brow. It is little incidents of this kind which, so to speak, put the New Deal in Dutch with the people.

On Friday was inaugurated the first trans-Pacific aerial mail service. Between San Francisco and Manila lies 8,000 miles of salt water dotted with a few islands. The China Clipper soared away over that long waste of waters bearing 85,000 letters that weigh more than a ton. It it just another step in man's subjugation of nature, his mastery of land, sea and air; another step toward the brotherhood of the human race, we would like to believe. But not yet. Perhaps our grandchildren will see the day of good will toward men, and peace on earth. For the present ,this beautiful creation of modern genius, this silved striped bird that darts so swiftly on steady pinions over the gray expanse of water, can overnight be turned into an engine of destruction.

Mrs. Eward J. Pollard, who resides on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway east of Nevada City, is spending some time in San Francisco visiting Mrs. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Coughlin of Silva avenue of this city plan to spend Thanksgiving Day in Auburn with their son, George Coughlin and family.

DRUNKEN PEACE DISTURBER TO PAY $100 FINE

Judgment was pronounced Saturday by City Judge Miles D. Coughlin, in the case of the people versus Elmer Hooper, who created a disturbance at the Old Brewery Cafe Sunday night a week ago, bashed Ray Wilde, special police officer, in the face, and attempted to use a 30-30 rifle on those who ejected him from the cafe. Hooper was tried on Thursday night and found guilty. Judge Coughlin's judgment and order follows:

The charge in this case was that of disturbing the peace. Judging from the evidence presented at the trial, this defendant is very fortunate that either of two more serious charges have not been filed against him. In addition to creating a rumpus he resisted an struck a duly qualified police officer of Nevada City, and at least made an attempt to secure a loaded rifle during the heat of his quarrel.

It is probable that vigilance of the officer and other citizens is what prevented the commission of a still more rash act by the defendant. The suggestion urged during the trial that the defendant be excused because he was drunk is looked upon with extreme disfavor by this court.

The special officer on duty at the place where the affray started was there at the request of the proprietor for the purose of preserving peace and such an officer on duty is vested with all the powers and must be resected as the representative of the people of the city just as much as any other peace officer.

The legislature of the state has fixed the maximum fine for disturbing the peace at $200. The court believes that the acts of the defendant in this case, if they did not extend beyond a charge ow disturbing the peace, they at least qualify as warranting the imposition of a substantial fine together with a jail sentence. The evidence disclosed that the defendant has a steady job and is living with his wife in a home, which they are buying, near Nevada City, and a jail sentence might mean the loss of his job and create an additional hardship for the defendant's wife.

The defendant has been within the observation of the city officers before this time and while the court is going to give the defendant a chance to escape a term in jail it appears necessary to devise some sort of restraint for the defendant. The public and the officers are entitled to protection from such pugnacious invasions of their peace and safety as occurred in this case.

After considering the evidence and the circumstances of the defendant the Court renders judgment as follows:

Wherefore, it is by hte court ordered and adjudged that the said defendant, Elmer Hooper, is guilty of the crime of disturbing the peace, and that for said offense, said defendant be imprisoned in the city jail of the City of Nevada, County of Nevada, for the term of ten days, and pay a fine in the sum of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars, and in case said fine be not paid that said defendant be imprisoned in the city jail of the City of Nevada in the proportion of one day's imprisonment for every two dollars of said fine.

It is ordered that the fine of $100 may be paid in installments as follows:

The sum of $10 immediately.

The sum of $10 upon December 10, 1935.

The sum of $10 upon December 20, 1935.

The sum of $10 upon January 10, 1936.

The sum of $10 upon January 20, 1936.

The sum of $10 uon February 10, 1936.

The sum of $10 upon February 20, 1936.

The sum of $10 upon March 10, 1936.

The sum of $10 upon March 20, 1936.

The sum of $10 upon April 10, 1936.

It is further ordered that if the defendant makes the first payment above mentioned upon the fine (10 payable immediately), the execution of the portion of this judgment relating to 10 days imprisonment will be suspended, subject to further order of the court, upon agreement by the defendant to the following terms and conditions:

1. That the defendant will make the installment payments of his fine, promptly and regularly.

2. That the defendant will not drink or have in his possession any alcoholic liquors of any sort;

3. That the defendant will not enter any place anywhere where alcoholic liquors of any kind are possessed, sold, served or kept;

4. That the defendant will not commit a violation of any law;

5. That the defendant will report to the Chief of Police of Nevada City twice monthly at such days and times to be fixed by the officer and will give any information requested by the officer if it be within his knowledge.

Done in open Court, this twenty-second day of November, 1935.

M. D. Coughlin, Judge of the City Court, City of Nevada.

THIEVES ROB MOVING TRUCK FROM THE REAR

CAMPTONVILLE, Nov. 25.—A new kind of thievery was displayed Tuesday evening while the Meyer and Lusk freight truck of Downieville was coming up the highway on the South Yuba grade, someone boarded the moving truck from the rear and threw off five cases of merchandise. One box of drugs belonging to the Meek Mercantile Company and four cases of groceries belonging to Meyers Grocery at Downieville. No clues are had as to the exact place where it happened or who did it, but in future precautions will be taken against such stealing.

UNION SERVICE THANKSGIVING

CAMPTONVILLE HIGH SCHOOL CLOSES TERM

—CAMPTONVILLE, Nov. 23.—The Camptonville Union Grammar School and Camptonville high school closed for the fall term Friday, and will remain in vacation until about the middle of March. Next week is institute week, and the board of trustees feared that by the following week the roads in the outlying districts would be bad, making it difficult to transport the children.

The grammar teachers Mrs. Grace Pauly and Mrs. Constance Pfiffer will remain here this winter. The high school teacher Mrs Kate Hope Livingston will spend the winter at Berkeley.

The pupils who have been going since last March with a slight fourth of July vacation, welcome the winter vacation.

INSPECTION FOR CHAIN LETTER PLANT SENDING

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 25.—Uninformed persons in other states, not familiar with California's strictly enforced plant quarantine laws, who engage in the "send a plant, bulb or seeds" chain letter urge, may find their chains shattered by reason of strict inspections of all such packages by agricultural officials of California and other states where similar laws exist, it was pointed out today by A. C. Fluery, chief of the Division of Plant Quarantine, California Department of Agriculture.

All packages containing plant material entering California, whether by mail or by other means, are inspected by state officials to prevent the introduction into this state of new and sometimes highly damaging plant diseases or insects, whih, if allowed to develop in this state might seriously threaten California's $500,000,000 farm crop production.

It is not the intention of officials to interfere in any way with legtimate shiment of plant materials, Fluery added, in fact just the contrary, is the view, but all persons who send plant material to California addresses should bear in mind that their shipments will be inspected and where material infested with serious pests or banned by quarantine laws is found such materials will be rejected.

Further information concerning California plant quarantine laws may be obtained from any county agaricultural commissioner in California or direct from the Bureau of Plant Quarantine, State Department of Agriculture, in Sacramento.

AUTO LICENSE RECORD BROKEN

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 25.—California, still two months from the close of 1935, has shattered all annual marks for registration of motor vehicles—figures for the 10-month period ending October 31 showing a total of 2,195,600 vehicles registered in comparison with the previous annual high mark of 2,107,275 registrations in 1931.

This definite picture of upward trend in business and industry in the state was given Gov. Frank F. Merriam Saturday in a department of motor vehicles monthly summary presented by Director Ray Ingels.

According to the report, there were 102,173 more automobiles registered in the first ten months of this year than there were in the period from January 1 to October 31, 1934. "Special indication of industrial progress," says Ingels' report, "is the fact that registration of pneumatic tired trucks showed a gain of 17,885 in the ten month comparative period. Pneumatic trailers. also closely identified with business operations, increased 14,282 registrations."

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cole will have as Thanksgiving Da guests, their daughter and son in law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Packwood, and daughter, Mary Jane, Miss Desiree Lucas and Leonard Dolton all of Sacramento.

LIQUOR TAXES IN NOVEMBER DROP

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 25.—Continuing the loss in revenue from beverage taxes due to the seasonal decline in the thirst of California beer drinkers, noted in September, these taxes for last month amounted to $153,988.31. This is contrasted with September revenue of $159,863.89, which was in turn $32,365.34 less than the August figure, according to Orfa Jean Shontz, Los Angeles, Member of the State Board of Equalization, in whose office the assessments are made.

"Aside from seasonal fluctuation in beer consumption," said Miss Shontz, "the amount of wine subject to the state tax has shown substantial gain. Thus during October there were 2,001,921 gallons of still fine taxed, as contrasted with 1,656,570 gallons during the month previous.

"Champagne and sparkling wines registered even greater gains. In September we taxed 83,772 pints of these beverages, while the assessment roll for October which has just been completed shows a corresponding figure of 151,164 pints. At the rate of 20 cents a pint, the tax from this source for last month will amount to $4534.92, marking an increase of 80.44 per cent over the revenue for September."

FIFTY MEN BEGIN WORK ON NEVADA CITY PROJECTS

The WPA projects for Nevada City were started off with fifty men this morning, most of them coming from North San Juan and the Ridge. Twenty men are assigned to Pioneers park where they began work on the road that connects Park avenue with Nimrod street. Thirty men began work on the street projects. It is reported that a large number of men on relief in this county have refused to work for the wages of 35 and 40 cents an hour.

POLICE DEPT. IN FAST WHEEL BARROW RIDE PAYS FOOTBALL BET

Chief Garfield Robson, the police department, carried away by football enthusiasm Saturday morning, hazarded a wager on the Golden Bears at terrific odds but with tremendous confidence. The other end of the bet was held by Bev Barron and Howard Penrose who backed the Indians. Along about 5 o'clock came the news of the Stanford victory, 13 to 0. Howard Penrose then rallied the few Nevada City folks who had not gone to the game. After a crowd had gathered in Broad street, he produced a wheel barrow, in which the chief seated himself with all the dignity circumstances permitted, and, with the help of Bev Barron who teaches football, gave the police department a fast and furious ride down Broad street.

TRAPDOOR SPIDER HAS RIDE ON WOMAN'S MOP

George Gibson, of this city, brought a large brown spider to the Nugget office today. His wife found it on her mop as she was mopping the floor. When annoyed the insect jumped viciously at anything that came near. Its body is an inch long. Mr. L. G. Lagerson, agricultural commissioner of Nevada county, found the spider to be the common trap door spider. It lives in burrows in the ground which are lined with silk and the entrance is closed by a trap door which is held tight by the spider is disturbed and is sealed during the hibernating period of winter. Mr. Lagerson said their bite is not fatal but painful.

W. F. Rodda superintendent of the county hospital has one of the spiders in a bottle of alcohol, having found it on the hospital grounds.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS HOLD MONTHLY RALLY

Leaguers from Epworth organizations of Placer and Nevada counties gathered Friday evening in the parlors of the Methodist church of this city to hold their monthly rally. A pot-luck supper was enjoyed by the group, and songs, reminiscent of other league gatherings and typical of the organization, were sung.

Announcements of interest to the members were made by the chairman and the official sanction of the group given on the acceptance of officers to head the alliance during the year to come. The banner, awarded each month to the league with the highest percentage of points in membership and attendance, was won by the Nevada City League.

Those on the committee responsible for the preparation of the affair were: Flossie Angove, Joan Grant, Palline Rozynsky, Bill Mullis, Gert Schreiber, Elma Eden, Merle Coulter, Bernice Ellis, Joyce, Stotrem, and Margaret Phariss.

Again State Senator "Jerry" Seawell sounds an optimistic note concerning the gold industry, this time in an address before the Grass Valley Lions Club. He sees nothing but good times for our gold mines. We think he's right. But it would never do to abandon the trenches. The mining industry must be prepared for boarders at all times, who in their zeal for raising tax funds would scuttle the ship.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. Uren are planning to spend Thanksgiving Day in Sacramento with relatives.

Love Life Of A Cow

(Contributed)

Our energetic New Dealers, at the expense of the taxpayer, have delved at some length, and at an appreciable cost, into the love life of the cow.

No little space is devoted to this engaging study in the first part of the report on milk industry, prepared under the direction of Dr. Walton Hale Hamilton of Yale, Amherst, the Universities of Texas and Michigan, and the Robert Brookings Graduate School of Economics and Government. Dr. Hamilton, in October (1935) was director of the new "consumers cabinet," under the officially dead, but still kicking, NRA. Dr. Hamilton's appointment was made by President Roosevelt, and this first part of the report amounts to 24,000 words on 81 pages of typewritten matter.

The great bureaucratic government has found that the love life of the cow has been destroyed by man's determination that she shall be a milk factory.

While the taxpayers chip in hard-earned money for all of these fantastic affairs of Government nowadays, Dr. Hamilton's report indicates that "the vast majority are just ordinary cows, who have few social ambitions and little opportunity to ascend the social ladder."

There are now about 25,000,000 dairy cows in the United States, and, think of it, they are not social. You, doubtless, are glad to pay heavily for this information.

The study of the love life of the cow is on a par with an earlier New Deal analysis of the love life of a bull frog, which was printed by the Department of Agriculture, and aroused considerable amusement.

The Government has men of varied talents who are helping to spin the money wheels around. Dr. Rexford G. Tugwell, Rural Resettlement Administrator has enlisted for his efforts to spend two hundred and fifty millions of dollars a number of well- known writers, artists, and movie critics. One of the best known among this group is John Franklin Carter, who has written for many of the better magazines, and who, under the pen name of Jay Franklin, has proved himself a searching critic with a particularly bitter dart at the end of his pen.

Adrian J. Dornbush, a Wisconsite, and a painter in oils and water colors, is in charge of Dr. Tugwell's special skills division, which has been formed for the cultural uplift of underplivileged people.

Still another outstanding individual in the Tugwell organization is Dr. Roy Stryker, a professor of economics at Columbia University. He is coordinating the photographic work of the Resettlement Administration.

Stuart Chase, noted economist, author of many books, acts in an advisory capacity for the Administration. He is one of many.

Pare Lorenz, moving picture critic of "Judge" in October was in the employ of the Administration at $25 a day, engaged in the preparation of a motion picture of the activities of the Tugwell organization. And this is only the beginning.

EXPERT TO SCAN SHY ABALONES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Some deep sea divers go after gold and pearl, but now a man has been found who intends to risk his life by descending into the ocean depths and making a closeup study of the family life of the ferocious California abalone. He will do this in the interests of science and the appetite of gourmets and then make his report to the Division of Fish and Game, Department of Natural Resources.

A few weeks ago this scientist investigated a report that abalone on the Sonoma county coast are becoming scarce, due to some natural enemy getting the upper hand of them. He interviewed a commercial abalone diver and was told that eight inch abalone are abundant in the deep water beyond the area in which amateurs gather them. This led to the conclusion that scarcity of abalone is due to the increasingly heavy fishing by amateurs and sportsmen. In proof of this, abalone were found along the Mendocino coast in fairly abundant numbers, on account of difficulty of access to the coast. In Sonoma county the highway makes the coast easy of access.

The expert who intends to go down in a diving suit does not fear sea urchins, either as an enemy to himself or to abalone. His researches led him to the conclusion that they mean no harm to the succulent shellfish and are good neighbors, although he did find that where there are sea urchins in abundance there are no abalones, even though the area in question should have supported a large and thriving population of them. He scouts the theory that they have entered into a feud, but hopes to get to the bottom of it after he has locked on the diver's helmet.

SUPERVISORS ASK U. S. LOAN FOR HOSPITAL

The board of supervisors has adopted another resolution pertaining to a new $300,000 hospital in Nevada county.

Last September the board agreed to ask the Public Works Administration for a $150,000 grant for the hospital, the remainder of the money to be furnished by private capital. The county was to have had control of the hospital under the plan then proposed, but it would be run as a private institution.

The new resolution favors the construction of a charitable, non-profit institution, vesting the ownership solely in the county.

WHO SHARES

Ford made an automobile. Maytag made a washing machine.

It appears that both were good machines and sold at prices that attracted buyers. Both got rich. One got richer than the other, but both sold enough machines to become very wealthy.

There is a little connection, not between the men, but between the machines. Both machines were sold to ordinary folks. The farmer and the mechanic bought Fords. The women who did their own washing boukht the washing machine. Both bought because they needed it. The Ford made the long miles short. The washer shortened the day, relieved weariness and toil, and offered time for other matters. Might say within reason both were poor folks, working folks', machines.

Ford, a mechanic, "growed" like Topsy. He left the bench but he put 100,000 other men in his place. Maytag started a factory to build a few washers. It grew. It aided greatly to make a 10,000 city grow out of a little town. It paid wages to other men for making washing machines and parts of washing machines, and they raised families, bought homes. No, the Fords and Maytags didn't get it all. Not by those hundred thousands the factories employed. But both got rich. Other able and active men have done the same thing. —Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

AUTO LICENLSES BREAKS RECORDS

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 25.—Smashing all previous records, California gasoline taxes for October amounted to $4,437,321.92, according to announcement made here today by R. E. Collins, of Redding, Chairman of Redding, chairman of the State Board of Equalization. This marked a gain of $1,016,941.96 or 29.73 per cent over the corresponding figure for the same month of last year.

Commenting on the unprecedented amount of gasoline sold last month, Collins said:

"Never before has there been so large a taxable gallonage of motor vehicle fuel distributed in any one month since the gasoline tax was inaugurated twelve years ago. It means that during October gasoline taxes were accruing at the rate of $143,139 a day.

"If sales should continue at this rate for the balance of the year, the total tax for 1935, even after allowing for seasonal decline during the winter months, will be $44,500,000, or approximately $2,875,000 more than the tax assessed in 1931, which was the largest annual figure previously recorded."

CURRAN THEATRE AGAIN TO STAGE STUDENT PRINCE

The thumping of beer mugs; the snap of salutes; the click of heels and the deep gusto of "the drinking song" will again resound through the Curran Theatre (San Francisco) on Monday night December 2 when "The Student Prince" begins a short return engagement.

"The Student's Serenade," "Just We Two", "Deep In My Heart," and "Golden Days" will again be played to the strains of 'cello and ciolin, with the added notes of cornts to give them fervor and zip.

The male chorus will again be on the stage, representing life and enthusiasm and who can ever forget those glorious melodies.

"The Student Prince" stands today as the most poular operetta ever written. Its success throughout the English speaking world has eclipsed that of any other known work of its kind.

The production, most brilliant presentation of "The Stulent Prince" yet to reach San Francisco, will be under the personal direction of J. J. Shubert. Superb costumes, a magnificent singing chorus and a brilliant cast of principals from Broadway will make the production at the Curran outstanding.

Meanwhile "Blossom Time" the thrillingly beautiful musical romance of Franz Schubert, drenched with the beauty of the immortal Schubert music, is thrilling audiences at the Curran. "Blossom Time" enters its final week Monday night, November 25, it will close Saturday night, November 30.

NEW SERVICE STATION BUILDING STARTED

Mr. George Bobst, local contractor and builder, and a crew started work today on excavation of 1400 cubic yards of dirt at the Joseph Martin property just south of the state highway camp south of Nevada City's limits for a Super Service Station.

Rio Grande Oil Company of the Sinclair interests are to open their first gasoline station in this section at the Martin place.

Three separate buildings, the largest 16 by 30 feet, are to be constructed. A hyddaulic hoist is to be installed; underground lighting system put in to floodlight the whole place. The area around the station is to have a drive way, tiny parks of blue grass and evergreen shrubbery, making it one of the most modern spots in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin purchased the Kink property of ten acres about a year ago and last fall built a neat home facing the highway.

NOR. SAN JUAN DANCERS ENJOY TURKEY DINNER

The San Juan Ridge Improvement League gave its regular dance Saturday evening. A large crowd attended and tripped the dances through to the gay music Eddie Metz and his orchestra. The new hall was well heated and due to the fact that members of the league had given the floor a thorough sanding, it was as smooth as glass and a joy to dance on.

Under the direction of Mrs. Joe Young, the ladies of the league served the dancers with a turkey dinner that could not be equalled by a first class hotel. A number of the men from the Spanish mine came over for the fun. Charles Moody, one of this group won a 14 pound turkey offered as a door prize. Dan Henry also of this group won a 12 pound bird. The third turkey went to Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Hellgran.

A "Hard Times" dance will be the next event at North San Juan on December 7. Eddie Metz' orchestra will play again.

OLD TIME DANCE AT NOR. SAN JUAN

The old timers on North San Juan Ridge congregated last Saturday night and gave one of the most enjoyable dances that has been presented in this district in a long time.

Solaro's hall was rented for this event because this building has been the scene of many other splendid arties during its long and historic life. Last Saturday evening, as it has for a half century past, the wide hospitable doors were opened wide and a cordial invitation extended to the public to share in the refreshments and the old fashioned waltzes, two steps, and Paul Jones.

Tex. Weaver and his banjo, Bud Johnson and his accordion, and Roy Jones with his trap drums furnished the music for this dance. They played the tunes that are universally liked by the people on the Ridge and that includes mountain music as well as the much loved cowboy songs. These boys have what is needed to strike up a lively tune and keep the folks happy and smiling from nine in the evening to three o'clock in the morning. The dancers expressed their appreciation by donating generously to the orchestra fund.

Another of these dances is planned to be held in the very near future and them will continue through out the winter. The public is cordially invited, at all times, to participate in these happy affairs. Good music will be played all evening and refreshments served at midnight.

HUNTS PHEASANTS, NO LUCK, SEASON ENDS, FINDS ONE IN YARD

Will C. Buffington, enthusiastic sportsman, lit out for the lowlands around Marysville, when the pheasant season opened. He hunted and he hunted. He came home but a day later was on his way again, following up the tips of successful friends regarding where the wary birds could be found. No luck, and home again. The season ended and the next morning, Buffington looked out of his window and there was a handsome cock ringneck scratching for worms in his front yard.

Queries and Answers

"Oh why is the ocean so wet, so wet?
And why is the desert so dry?
And why does an old hen sit and sit
On a china egg? And why
Have I written these lines your brains to vex?
Perhaps you may know, but not I" V. C.
The ocean is wet by the water therein
And the desert was meant to be dry;
So the sun shines down and maketh it hot
And the buzzards over it fly;
But the ways of a hen with a china egg
I am sure I cannot devine;
Perhaps she suffers a mental collapse
After reading your verses—or mine.

"But what are the dreams of the imbecile hen
As she sits like a statue of fate?
With features repellant and temper vile,
For what does the creature wait?
Does she dream that the china egg will hatch
And bring forth a feathered brood?
Oh why does the old hen sit and sit
In a wicked and dangerous mood?"

The old hen sits on a china egg
And she longs for a china child
With brittle feathers of fine spun glass—
No wonder her glances are wild!
And she fears her unnatural china child
Will pass all the fat worms by,
To scratch for rhymes in an addled way—
Even as You and I.
